Women of Isaiah Theatre and Arts Series – Upcoming Events

East Bay International Jewish Film Festival – Le Concert – Saturday, March 10 – 7:00pm

French/Russian, 2009, 100 Minutes, Russian, French with subtitles

Andrei Filipov refuses to think of himself as a janitor at Moscow's Bolshoi Orchestra. One day, he accidentally intercepts an invitation for the Bolshoi to play in Paris, and starts reuniting his former musicians so that they can play the Tchaikovsky concerto that was outlawed by the government. For the concert, Andrei engages a young violin soloist with whom he has an unexpected connection. Le Concert is a crowd-engaging, emotionally stirring film that will leave you cheering! Meet at Sweet Tomatoes in Pleasant Hill at 5:30pm for an early dinner and then go to the CineArts Theatre nearby to see the film. Tickets are $10 per person. Family and friends are welcome. Order your tickets by February 25th at www.eastbayjewishfilm.org or call the Jewish Federation at (510)-318-6456. Please let me know you are planning to attend so we can reserve seating for dinner. Contact Karen Maas at maas19@gmail.com or 925-376-4835.

Bouquets to Art 2011 – De Young Museum, San Francisco - Wednesday, March 14, 8:00am-2:00pm.

The 27th Annual Bouquets to Art will feature 150 floral arrangements by prominent Bay Area designers and garden clubs, to interpret and complement the museum's permanent collection. Bouquets to Art is the largest fundraiser held to benefit the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco, and one of the country's premier floral events. We will meet in the temple parking lot and carpool to San Francisco to see the exhibit and have lunch nearby. Free for FAMSF members and one guest. Non-member tickets are $20 for adults, $17 for seniors. Family and friends are welcome. Order your tickets now online at http://bouquetstoart.famsf.org/ticket-information. Contact Karen Maas at maas19@gmail.com or 925-376-4835 to let me know you are planning on attending and if you have any extra guest tickets.

War Horse – Curran Theatre – San Francisco – Sunday, August 26, 2:00pm

War Horse is an epic and intimate story about a young man named Albert and his horse, Joey, who was brought to France from the cavalry and became involved in the crossfire of World War I till it ended up in a deserted land. Young Albert then embarks on a dangerous journey, too dangerous for his age, to find and save his horse and bring it home. The Times of London call it a "sweeping drama of extraordinary power. More information at http://shnsf.com/shows/warhorse Tickets are $82.00 per person and are located in the mezzanine. Tickets are limited – Order Now. Please use the order form below. All tickets are non-refundable and non-changeable. I will arrange an optional group dinner to follow. Questions: Contact Karen Maas at maas19@gmail.com, 925-376-4835.
